Greg:

My apologies for the email mixup. Thank you for deleting the prior message. Here is what I intended to send. Will call you to discuss.

Case 5:06-cv-02057-JF Document 45-6 Filed 08/07/2006 Page 2 of 3

Unfortunately, I have no idea what your message below means. What I need from you today is a date by which you intend to file a Second Amended Complaint. It has been three weeks. Again, the Court certainly did not intend to give you an endless period in which to file an amendment. Right now, I'm afraid it looks to us like you're just delaying and evading any effort at communication.

If we do not get that date from you today we will have to take this matter up with the Court via a miscellaneous administrative request, seeking to impose an immediate deadline. I cannot imagine that the Court will look favorably upon your refusal to participate in a meaningful way in these discussions. Again, we're flexible with respect to a schedule, but we have to know what you intend to do. If you do not intend to file an amendment or have other plans, please let me know.

Thanks,

Dave Kramer

Greg:

It has been almost three weeks since you were given leave to file an amended complaint. Your message below promised an update last week, but I've received nothing. When specifically do you intend to file an amendment?

Dave,
Saw your e-mail from last Thursday night.
My uncle in VA passed away that day, I'm now in VA/DC for the service.
After I return to CA on Friday, 7/28, I'll update you.
Regards,
Greg
